

FDLP Modernization Act of 2018 – H.R. 5305

OLA-DIGOR Talking Points

Oregon libraries help the public find, use and understand government information. Through their decades-long partnership with the Federal Depository Library Program, libraries collect, catalog, preserve and provide reference services to support a wide array of Oregonians, including business owners, lawyers, researchers, and students of every age.

H.R. 5305 updates and improves the Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP) by making it more responsive to the public and the needs of libraries

- ✓ Affirms no-fee permanent public access to all forms of government publications through a comprehensive distributed system emphasizing coordination and collaboration
- ✓ Defines and expands scope of digital collections
- ✓ Provides for increased flexibility for participating libraries
- ✓ Protects user privacy
- ✓ Broadens public awareness by expanding the number of libraries that could participate in the program
- ✓ Gives the Government Publishing Office (GPO) regulatory authority to create more tools and processes to ensure the ongoing strength and responsiveness of the program

Federal Depository Libraries in Oregon

Congressional District	Library
District 1	Pacific University – Forest Grove Linfield College - McMinnville
District 2	Blue Mountain Community College – Pendleton Central Oregon Community College – Bend Oregon Institute of Technology – Klamath Falls Eastern Oregon University – La Grande Southern Oregon University - Ashland
District 3 (Portland)	Lewis and Clark College – Watzek and Boley Library Bonneville Power Administration Library Reed College Multnomah County Library Portland State University
District 4	Oregon State University – Corvallis University of Oregon - Eugene
District 5 (Salem area)	State Library of Oregon State of Oregon Law Library Willamette University – Hatfield and Long Library Western Oregon University - Monmouth