RESOURCE SHARING: NEW PERSPECTIVES

The Oregon Chapter of ACRL requests the pleasure of your company at our first two-day meeting, October 30 at 1:00 PM to October 31 at 1:00 PM. The meeting will be held at the Menucha Conference Center, Corbett, Oregon.

Barbara Evans Markuson of INCOLSA and John Moore, University of California at Riverside, are both experts on planning new ways for libraries to meet patron's needs. Barbara is head of Indiana's state library network; John has been studying how the University of California's libraries operate. Both have accepted our invitation and have agreed to be our guest speakers at Menucha in October.

John Moore is professor of biology at the University of California, Riverside. He has published numerous articles and monographs on biology, and was Supervisor of the National Biological Sciences Curriculum Study -- the section that published Biological Science; an inquiry into life. More than two million copies of this book have been sold. For the last two years he has chaired the University of California System-wide Senate Committee on Libraries. During that time he began, on his own, a major study of the operating characteristics of academic libraries. A text will be completed in December of this year and it promises to be a landmark title in the field of librarianship.

Dr. Moore currently serves as chair of the Faculty Senate Library Committee at UC Riverside.

Barbara Evans Markuson is well-known to the library community through her frequent articles in the library literature. Her work has dealt with automation, with systems, and with networks. A thorough overview of the role of networks is presented in her paper entitled "Cooperation and Library Network Development", College and Research Libraries, March 1979.

She has been on the staff at the University of Oregon and the Library of Congress, and is currently the Executive Director of INCOLSA (Indiana Cooperative Library Services Authority). INCOLSA provides cooperative state-wide services to libraries, working to reduce costs and improve services. Services provided include the use of OCLC, the maintenance of the Indiana Union List of Serials, facilitation of the use of information retrieval services, and continuing education activities. Ms. Markuson is also currently president of LITA (Library and Information Technology Association), a division of ALA.

The Oregon ACRL chapter met at Portland State University on 22 May 1980. A brief business meeting was held and Virginia Seiser, Portland State University, was nominated and named chairperson-elect by acclamation. She will become the chapter chairperson at the October meeting and a new chairperson-elect will be chosen at that time.

Elizabeth Bruce noted that the ACRL Executive Board will recommend the Seattle site for the national ACRL meeting to be held in 1984. Local responsibility for the meeting would be shared by the Washington and Oregon chapters. Gary Menges (University of Washington) is starting a Washington chapter of ACRL. The Washington chapter will be invited to join the Oregon chapter at the Menucha meeting in October.

We have received $500 from the Johnson Foundation and are still trying to get an additional $1500. The money will be used to bring speakers to Menucha; Elizabeth asked for suggestions for speakers.

The next national ACRL meeting will be in Minneapolis in 1981 with the theme "Options for the 80's".

A chairperson-elect for 1980-81 will be chosen at the October meeting. Please make your nominations known to any Board member. The chairperson-elect will become the chapter chairperson at the autumn meeting of 1981 and should be able to represent the chapter at national ACRL meetings and at ALA.

The fiftieth anniversary of the E.V. Hauser Library, Reed College, will be celebrated during the last week of October. Frederick Kilgour, OCLC, Inc., will be a featured speaker.

Hauser was a local philanthropist who gave money for libraries to Reed, Albany College (now Lewis & Clark), and Willamette during the early thirties.

We were very happy to have a phone call from Steve Miller, trust officer at the U.S. Bank, with the news that the board of the Philip Ludwell Jackson Trust likes the idea of our Menucha meeting. They voted to give us the remaining $1500 we had requested to fund the meeting.

Our grant-seeking activities this year has been very successful. It's nice to know that there are so many supportive people out there who are interested in libraries and librarians.

AACR2 Workshop

Date: Wednesday, July 23rd
Place: Portland State University
Time: 9:00-12:00; 1:30-4:00
Workshop Leaders: Elaine Kemp, University of Oregon
Jim Dwyer, University of Oregon
Lynn Chmelir, Linfield College

The morning session will present an introduction to the new code with examples to point out the major provisions and changes. It is aimed at catalogers, administrators and reference librarians.

The afternoon meeting will consist of three concurrent small group sessions. The topics covered will be description, choice of entry, and form of heading. Each participant will have an opportunity to attend each session, with time for discussion of examples and hands-on practice constructing catalog entries. This session is aimed at catalogers. Please bring a copy of AACR2.

Registration is limited to 60. Please return this form as soon as possible. Information about parking and room locations will be sent to registrants.
