

LAMGO RECEIVES LSCA GRANT FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION COORDINATOR

The LSCA grant proposal, submitted by LAMGO (Library and Media Groups of Oregon) has been funded for 1984-85. The Continuing Library Education Coordinator will be housed at the Oregon State Library and will be working with librarians around the state. LAMGO would appreciate receiving any ideas, recommendations and comments you may have in regard to this new position.

Please feel free to contact any of the following:

Pat Silvernail or Terry Metcalf (ACRL), Valerie McQuaid or Margaret Mason (OCCLA), George Katigiri (ODE), Steve Teich (OHSLA), Stan Ruckman or Steve Stephenson (OLA), Jim Morgan (OSSHE), Shari Morwood or Faye Powell (SLA), Paula Hamilton (NAPCU), Kay Grasing (OSL), or Joyce Petrie (OEMA).

A copy of the position announcement for the Coordinator's position may be found on page 2 of this newsletter.

CHAPTER BIRTHDAY

ACRL/Oregon will be ten years old in 1985. This has been a decade of remarkable change and accomplishment among Oregon academic libraries, and ACRL has played a significant role. In commemoration of this anniversary, the Officers and Board would like to encourage the writing of a history of the Chapter and the people and activities it has been involved with. There are a good collection of research materials available, including the Chapter's archives, newsletter file, and photograph album. Anyone interested in taking on such a project or contributing to it is urged to contact one of the Board members or Officers.

MENUCHA 1984

Plans are being firmed up for the 1984 ACRL/Oregon/Washington joint conference at Menucha Conference Center. Futurist Robert Theobald will keynote the meeting, the theme of which will be "Connecting Academic Libraries with the Future". The topic will be developed further in six concurrent sessions (repeated once) treating such issues as "Professional Ethics and Changing Information Technology", "Library User Education for New Technologies", "Changing Public Policy on Information", "Leadership for the Future", "Staff Development and Retraining", and (of course) "Funding".

The dates of the Conference are October 25-26. Please plan on attending, and look for registration information in the next Newsletter issue.

ACRL/SEATTLE NOTES

1754 of us attended the ACRL National Conference in Seattle. Cassette tapes of the conference sessions are available and may be purchased, for both the theme sessions and the contributed papers. If interested, contact the Newsletter editor.

COMPUTER CONCERNS AND BIBLIOGRAPHIC INSTRUCTION
CALL FOR INFORMATION

During the 1983 ALA Conference in Los Angeles, the ACRL/BIS Computer Concerns Committee identified a variety of topics which represent major areas of interest and activity relating to the integration of computers into bibliographic instruction. These topics are:

1. Instruction in the use of on-line public access catalogs;
2. Computer-assisted instruction in library use;
3. End-user searching of computerized bibliographic data bases;
4. Computer-mediated on-line searching;
5. Human-computer interaction.

If you are involved with or interested in integrating computers into bibliographic instruction, we would like to hear from you. The Committee hopes to prepare for distribution a list or directory of librarian contacts in computer concerns relating to bibliographic instruction. The list will be available through LOEX. The information provided will also help us plan future committee studies and programming activities.

PLEASE SEND THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION TO:

BY (DATE) July 15, 1984

Joann H. Lee, Chair
ACRL/BIS Computer Concerns Committee
Lake Forest College Library
Lake Forest, IL 60045

1. Your name, institutional mailing address, and phone number.
2. Your ALA division memberships in section, discussion groups, committees, etc.
3. A brief description of the areas of interest or activity you are:
  - a. Presently engaged in (e.g., "provide workshops for end-user searching to chemistry graduate students")
  - b. planning to incorporate into your bibliographic instruction program (e.g., "working on CAI module for Apple II micro-computer to teach the use of periodical indexes")
  - c. interested in (e.g., "would like to hear more about using computers to teach patrons to use on-line catalogs")
4. Additional computer concerns not listed above.
5. Personal expertise relating to above issues.
6. Publications relating to your project (have you written any journal articles or other publications concerning your work?)

Thank you for your cooperation. The results of this call for information will be made available as soon as possible.
