ACRL OREGON CHAPTER NEWSLETTER, no. 8, Feb. 21, 1977
(an irregular publication)

MEETING: Laurel Maughan, OSU, and Louise Gerity, Lewis and Clark, have agreed to get together a program on bibliographic instruction.

Program: A survey of the current Library/Bibliographic Instruction Programs being used in Oregon universities and colleges including:
Classroom approach                      Audio Visual materials
Subject related approach                Library-Teaching faculties-
Orientation                                interaction and involvement

Date: March 11th (Fri.)
Time: 1:30-4:00 p.m.
Place: Oregon State University, Plaza Reading Room - Kerr Library 135
(1st floor Jefferson Street entrance)

Parking: Jefferson Street Entrance to OSU - Ask for Visitor's Parking Permit at the gate and inquire of the security guard where closest visitor parking to the library is - probably the 25 cent pay lot between the Memorial Union and the Kerr Library - north of Jefferson Street with the parking lot entrance on Waldo Place near to the Kerr Library

Anyone wishing to talk about their experiences in this area is asked to get in contact with Laurel or Louise. Presentations need not be long. Also they are asking that persons bring to the meeting samples of guides, instructions, handouts, etc. for display purposes.

Camera and television equipment are available and materials of this nature would be welcome.

ANNOUNCEMENT: At the beginning of Spring Term the Reference Desk at the University of Oregon Main Library will be disbanded. The librarians and the collection will go to the appropriate subject divisions to strengthen their services. A Catalog Information Service will provide assistance in the use of the card catalog, directions and library information and publicity, as well as create instructional alternatives. CIS is available 8-5, Monday through Friday, and will be staffed by public service and catalog librarians on a part-time basis. Please call 686-3055.

CORRECTION: Pacific Lutheran University Library will use their Kellogg Foundation grant to join the Washington Library Network, not OCLC as previously reported here
